BRYAN FISHERMAN AT GALVESTON.

Having a Good Time and Good Luck at Bettison's Pier.

Galveston, Texas, June 12.—Captain Andrew Moses, commandant of cadets, Dr. O. M. Ball, professor of botany and zoology, at Agricultural and Mechanical college; Dr. Geo. R. Tabor of Bryan, former state health officer; Dr. P. M. Rayson, and M. H. James of Bryan are spending a week at the Bettison fishing pier. Dr. Ball is an enthusiastic fisherman and distinguished himself today by landing a very large jackfish, which gave the doctor quite a tussle before he captured it. He also landed a fine string of trout and redfish.—Houston Post.

You are now in good health; have a good position; earning a fair income. You may not expect accident or sickness, but it is prudent to be prepared when it does come.

BRYAN ATHLETIC CLUB NOTES.

The Bryan Athletic Club is one of the liveliest little organizations in the city, and the boys of the club are constantly striving to see what additions they can make to their general plans and programs that will add to their own and the pleasure of their friends. They have recently purchased a piano and it has been installed in their hall, and Wednesday night of each week has been set apart as reception night to their friends. On each Wednesday night a program of music and other special features will be rendered, and a cordial invitation to their friends is extended for that night. In other words the club will keep open house on each Wednesday night. Another innovation is "Ladies night."

They have decided to tender their hall and all their paraphernalia to the ladies of Bryan on each Friday night. On that night no gentlemen will be admitted, and the ladies will be welcome to come and enjoy the pleasure of athletics among themselves. The club rooms are located on the second floor of the Mike building on north Main street, and are well lighted and fitted with all the essentials for an up-to-date athletic club. The membership is limited to 50 and there are now 48 on the membership roll, which leaves only two vacancies. The club not only furnishes innocent amusement and pleasant diversion for the members, but the exercise is a great health and strength builder, and is very beneficial to members.
